MINISTER SENT TO JAIL.

Rev. James T. Hargrave, the unfrocked clergyman of the Episcopal Church, yesterday morning pleaded guilty to four indictments in the United States District Court in Richmond, and was sentenced by Judge Edmund Waddill, jr., to eight months in the Hanover county jail and to pay a fine of $100. The indictments, each of which contain three counts, charges Hargrave with having devised a scheme and with practicing the same with intent to defraud by use of the United States mails. Merchants in many parts of the country were his victims. Hargrave was sentenced on one indictment, the others being nolle prosequi.

Bishop Channing Brewster, of Hartford, Conn., whose name Hargrave had used in connection with the operation of his fraudulent schemes, was present as a witness in the case. They met in the court room, and the bishop, resenting Hargrave's flippant advance, said:

"You are a disgrace to your church; you have been disgraced by your church; you have been indicted by a grand jury and sentenced by an honorable judge. I can pray for you, but I fear I can't much help you."

Hargrave was first ordained a clergyman in 1881 by Bishop Horatio Potter of New York, an uncle of the present Bishop Potter. He was ordained a second time in Springfield, Ill., by Bishop George F. Seymour. As a clergyman he held charges in many states, from New York to Mississippi. He moved to Virginia in 1895, settling in Fairfax county. Six years ago he purchased a plantation in Hanover county, on which he has lived ever since.

Hargrave's alleged crimes cover many years. It is said that there is scarcely a city in the country in which he has not operated. Claims amounting to thousands of dollars are now in the hands of an attorney in Richmond, resulting from credit extended to him as a minister of the gospel. Several times his home, "Oakhurst Lodge," in Hanover county, has been sold for debt. He is now under indictment of the Hanover grand jury and is awaiting trial on a charge of selling liquor without license. He has served several terms in jail.

A SAD CASE.

There was a pathetic scene yesterday in the boardroom of the Washington navy yard, where Assistant Surgeon David A. Spear, of the navy, is being tried on the charge of forging the names of his brother officers to treasury checks, and cashing them for his own use. Spear's father, a white-haired gentleman from Columbus, O., and a judge of the State courts, testified how the disease of drink had fastened itself upon his boy, and how his love for liquor had wrecked his life. His son, he said, joined a battery of artillery that was organized during the Spanish war in Columbus, but the battery got no farther than Chickamauga. There his boy learned to drink. He returned home, but his habits made it impossible for him to remain there, and wherever he went his love of liquor proved his undoing. The old man's voice broke, and tears streamed from his eyes as he testified to the power which rum held over his son. His wife had come from Columbus with Judge Spear, but at the last moment she found herself unable to attend the trial and hear the testimony against her boy. Surgeon Spear admits that it was liquor that induced him to commit the forgeries. His attorney, Mr. Henry H. Glasie, admitted the forgeries, but declares that the crime was the act of a man whose mind is disordered, and his mentality irresponsible because of drink. The particular blast Mr. Glasie lays to Surgeon Spear's fondness for Martin cocktails, a beverage which he said contains, among other things, vermuth and absinthe, the toxic effect of which will, in the opinion of medical men, drive its victims to crimes and other excesses. Surgeon Spear's trial will continue for several days.

ADRIFF ON A RAFT.

J. W. Appleton, of Missouri Point, Mo., is floating down the Mississippi river with his family, 12 pigs, 3 cows, 2 horses and some poultry on a large raft, which he launched just before the river broke over its bank and covered his farm with several feet of water. He started Tuesday afternoon, intending to steer his raft for high ground, but thus far has not been able to effect a landing. The raft, which is an enormous affair, was built by Appleton two weeks ago in preparation for the flood. It is surrounded by a railing to keep the cattle from falling into the river. Food for man, beast and fowl to last several days was taken along.
